TO-DAY'S NEWS

POSTPONEMENT OF STREAM HEARINGS

Washington—According to official cables from Rome the Allies captured 33,000 Austrians and thousands of machine guns.

Amsterdam—According to a Constantinople dispatch Turkey, under peace negotiations, has invited the Allied fleet to enter the Dardanelles.

LONDON—Turkey has agreed to an armistice. She has surrendered unconditionally.

LONDON—Foch's armistice terms arrived in Berlin Tuesday night according to a dispatch from Copenhagen.

VIENNA—Austrian troops fighting on Italian soil will be withdrawn according to an official statement issued by the war office.

ITALIAN HEADQUARTERS—Allied troops have taken Montecchio, opening roads to Feltre and Vittorio. Both cities were Austrian bases. The capture of Montecchio divides the Austrian army forcing troops to the north to take a long line of retreat through mountains to Trentino. The other line of retreat is along roads and railways toward Belluno and over plains toward Udine.

WASHINGTON—Fifteen Austrian divisions operating between Brenta and Isonzo in Italy have had their retreat cut off through the capture of the mountain pass of Vaudal by Italians and allied troops. Official dispatch from Rome today says that this advantage is being pressed to the utmost, and that the crisis is near.

The enemy losses are described as appalling.

WASHINGTON—51 American casualties; 100 dead; 122 wounded severely.

PARIS—Communication between Agram and Fiume and Budapest and Vienna has been totally cutoff. Czechoslovaks have cut railroad between Berlin and Vienna near Bodenbach, and German trains go only as far as Schnaudau according to a Zurich dispatch to the Journal.

PASS.—The Croatian parliament at Agram has voted for a total separation of Croatia, Slavonia and Dalmatia from Hungary, according to a Geneva dispatch which reports that Agram is decked in national colors, and that the people are celebrating.

LONDON—The unconditional release of all prisoners of war in enemy countries is to be one of the Allied Armistice terms, according to George Cave, British Home Secretary.

PARIS—Since August 8th the British armies in France and Belgium have captured 14,000 prisoners and 1,500 guns, it is estimated by Henri Bidou, one of the foremost military experts in Europe.

SEATTLE—Wholesale and retail stores, save drug stores, closed at three this afternoon on account of Spanish influenza.

LONDON—British have been checked in fighting around Valenciennes. North of Valenciennes the French, British and Belgians have improved their lines, but not succeeded in breaking through German lines defending Ghent.

Have your watch repaired at George Cowan's, in the Ulmer Block.

St. Philip's Guild will meet with Mrs. E. B. Mitchell at the home of Mrs. M. O. Johnson next Wednesday afternoon.

There will be sewing at the Red Cross Wednesday, Nov. 6th. The convalescent robes have been received.

Parties interested may attend hearing at Seattle November 25th or may file written statements with Ernest P. Walker, Inspector, Alaska Service, Bureau of Fisheries, Wrangell, Alaska, or with F. J. Furnivall, Special Agent, Bureau of Fisheries, Ketchikan, Alaska.

CONCERNING THE SUCCESS

OF LIBERTY LOANS

There are two classes of business men who give their time and equipment unstintingly to the government without hope of financial return—bankers and newspapermen. During a Liberty Loan drive every bank and every newspaper turns its entire equipment over to the service of the government without money and without price. The newspapers furnish the publicity without which no bond issues of such magnitude could be floated in such short time, and the banks furnish the skilled help and machinery for handling the millions of subscriptions, keeping book on deferred payments, carrying accounts, etc., and later issuing the bonds. The bankers and newspapers deserve great credit, for no other line of industry gives its services absolutely free of charge.

PROCLAMATION

BY THE GOVERNOR

Juneau, Alaska, Oct. 26, 1918

Whereas, It is the will of God that such a calamity has visited Alaska that will reach the heart of each and every citizen through personal bereavement, either of beloved family, or cherished friend, and

Whereas, The wind-swept waters of Alaska have closed over the gallant steamship, Princess Sophia, leaving no known survivors of the passengers or crew, and

Whereas, Death has brought untold sorrow to all Alaska, unable yet to realize the far-reaching effects of the dispatch;

Therefore, I, Thomas Riggs, Jr., Governor of Alaska, do request that as a mark of respect to our beloved dead and to the crushed and broken families, all flags in the territory shall be placed at half mast for a period of three days, that all churches shall conduct memorial services, and that each person believing in a just and merciful God, knowing how little and helpless are we, shall ask for guidance and strength to be of such service as can be given.

Given under my hand and the seal of the Territory of Alaska in Juneau this 27th day of October in the year of our Lord, 1918, and of the Independence of the United States the one hundred and forty-second.

THOS. RIGGS,
[Seal] Governor.

Attest:

Charles E. Davidson,
Ex-Officio Secretary of Alaska.

Prominent Mining Man Goes South

F. W. Bradley of San Francisco, president of the Treadwell Group of Mines and the Alaska-Juneau G. M. Co. was a southbound passenger on the Spokane Oct. 30. Mr. Bradley has been in Juneau and Treadwell for the past three months to study the details of the difficulties of mining low grade gold ore under war conditions.

Besides being the active head of the largest gold mine in Alaska, Mr. Bradley is president of the Bunker Hill Mining and Smelting Co. in Idaho which is one of the largest lead-silver mines in the United States. He is also owner of the largest tungsten producing mine in the United States, at Atolia, California. He is rated as one of the leading mining operators of America.

Although Mr. Bradley's principal interest in Alaska will always be gold mining he is endeavoring now to use the excess hydroelectric power at Treadwell and the new 2 ton Heroult electric furnace which has been installed in the Treadwell foundry to establish an industry for manufacturing the ferro-alloys. To do this it will be necessary to find and develop areas of tungsten, molybdenum, chromium and iron in the north. Such an industry means much for the future of Alaska.

Mr. Bradley is a brother of P. R. Bradley, the Federal Food Administrator for Alaska and Supt. of the Treadwell Mines.

Lost—A wallet containing a considerable amount of money, a bond from the Third Liberty Loan, registration, and identification cards and water front pass. Reward offered. Charles Gay.

O. C. Palmer this week received word that his brother Herbert Ernest Palmer had died of Spanish influenza in Boulder, Colo. He is survived by a widow and two small children, the older of whom is down with influenza and not expected to live. Bert Palmer, as he was usually known spent four years in Alaska. When the Wrangell electric light plant was established Bert Palmer was interested in the business. He sold out to his brother, O. C. Palmer, and left here two years after the light plant was established. He was 38 years old.

Rev. L. H. Pederson, formerly of Skagway, is now in Y. M. C. A. work near Astoria, Oregon. He has charge of the work in three of the army camps near that place.

DEMOCRATIC RALLY

BY THE GOVERNOR

Wrangell had a deluge of politices last week. On Tuesday evening Judge Wickersham, Grover Winn and Ed Russell held forth before a large audience. These gentlemen told the political story from a Republican viewpoint, and the last issue of the Sentinel contained an account of their meeting. On Friday evening there was a Democratic rally advertised for the purpose of telling "the other side." The speakers were E. J. "Stroller" White, dean of journalism in the north, Chief of the Alaska Territorial Bureau of Publicity, and candidate for the Legislature; E. G. Morrissey, Sulzer's private secretary; William Britt, candidate for Territorial Senator; and R. F. Roth, district attorney of Fairbanks.

United States Commissioner C. E. Weber acted as chairman. The first speaker introduced was Mr. E. J. White. He spoke along constructive lines advocating free assay for the prospector, a territorial mining engineer, etc. The next speaker was Mr. E. G. Morrissey. The gentleman spoke chiefly in behalf of Sulzer. He said in part: "During the last session of Congress 13,000 bills were introduced, only 52 of which passed. Of the 52 bills that passed there were only 14 that did not pertain to the war, and two out of these 14 were introduced by Mr. Sulzer. Therefore, it is a fact that your delegate, Mr. Sulzer, secured one seventh of all the local legislation that passed at the last session of congress."

William Britt was next introduced. Mr. Britt stated that he had been the victim of inscriptions of all kinds. Regarding the letter he wrote Jack Sutherland of Anchorage, which was before a Wrangell audience by his opponent, Ed Russell, Mr. Britt stated that it was a verbatim translation of the instructions he received from the Norwegian government while acting as vice consul for Norway, and that on that occasion he could not officially have written any differently from the way he did, but nevertheless at the same time, he wrote another letter to Mr. Sutherland as a private American citizen. Mr. Britt read a copy of this letter and it sounded very different from his

HON. P. C. MCCORMACK

OUR HOME CANDIDATE

Wrangell is represented on the Republican ticket by Hon. P. C. McCormack, who is one of the candidates for the Legislature from the First Division. He is not only a public spirited citizen, but a man of sterling character. As a candidate for re-election he stands squarely on his record at the past session of the Legislature, which is one of service and success. He got practically everything he went after. He was instrumental in getting the Wolf Bounty Bill through the House which provides for the payment of $15. for each wolf killed.

He introduced the Fish Hatcheries Bill which was enacted into a law providing for Fish Hatcheries and for the protection and care of natural spawning grounds in the territory of Alaska, and the creation of a Board of Fish Commissioners, making an appropriation therefor and declaring an emergency.

He introduced a bill which passed amending the Territorial Banking law, making it unlawful for the capital stock of a bank to be less than $2,000. However, the Act provides for two exceptions based on certain conditions where the population of the town in which the bank is located is less than 1,000, and also upon deposits.

He prepared a memorial which the Legislature presented to the Secretary of War, the Secretary of the Interior, and the Delegate to Congress from Alaska, petitioning for a wireless to Craig. The radio station which is now in operation at Craig is the direct result of this memorial. It is only the people living on the west coast of Prince of Wales Island who can fully appreciate the great benefit derived from the wireless station at Craig. It is more than a convenience. It is a factor which will play an important part in the development of that region. Furthermore, in the case of calamity it might be the means of saving hundreds of lives.

Mr. McCormack has for years taken a deep interest in school matters. At the last session of the Legislature he did some fine team work in getting a law enacted to establish a uniform school system in the Territory of Alaska, to create a Territorial Board of Education and Commissioner of Education, prescribing their power and duties, and fixing their compensation. It will be remembered that many measures were advocated in connection with establishment of a uniform school system. Many of the plans urged were such that to carry them out would entail great expense. When Mr. McCormack returned from the Legislature more than a year ago he remarked to the Sentinel reporter that the school bill had taken up considerable time, but he believed the law as it was finally enacted would mean efficiency at minimum expense.

There is a great advantage in having a representative in the Legislature from this particular section, who knows the local needs. Mr. McCormack is the only candidate in the field from the Wrangell district.

Under present conditions when efficient help is so difficult to secure, it means personal sacrifice for a business man like Mr. McCormack to leave his business long enough to attend a session of the Legislature.

The epidemic of Spanish influenza is sweeping over the country and many deaths have been recorded. Some of the Alaskan boys have fallen victims to the dread disease. They should be honored as if they had fallen on the field of battle, for truly they have given their lives for their country. —Douglas Island News.

Colonel Mason, with the permission of his exemption board, has signed up for a voyage from Seattle to South America and France on the new ship Amiens.

Can there be any doubt in your minds that they are for him?

Mr. Roth gave a review of the delegateship contest which was an old story in Wrangell, as Sulzer and Wickersham had both been heard at great length on this subject.

In conclusion Mr. Roth said: "Vote for Sulzer and show the President that we are backing him in his war policy."

Terrific Storm Drives Princess Sophia Over Reef on Which She Had Spent Two Days and She Sinks With All on Board.

In a blinding snow storm, the steamer Princess Sophia, Capt. J. P. Locke in command, went ashore on Vandervilt reef about half way between Juneau and Skagway at 2 o'clock Thursday morning. She carried a crew of 75 and had aboard 268 passengers taken on at Skagway. There were 84 officers and members of the crew of the White Pass and Yukon company aboard from river steamers.

The calls of the Sophia's wireless were heard in Juneau 15 minutes after striking and the Peterse from Fort Seward, the Estebeth Amy, Lone Fisherman, King and Winge went immediately to her rescue. Other gas boats left later in the day, and the U. S. Lighthouse Tender Cedar arrived there that night.

A heavy sea was running and as the Sophia was resting easily, Capt. Locke did not deem it advisable to transfer the passengers. Friday the storm became terrific. The boats which had been lying by all the time sought shelter that night. Late in the afternoon Capt. Locke wirelessed Juneau that the condition of passengers was normal and that the vessel was not taking water. That was the last that was heard from the scene until 7 o'clock Saturday morning when the Cedar wired that she was leaving for the Princess Sophia. About two hours later came the fateful wireless dispatch saying that the vessel had sunk and there were no survivors. The story of the last hours of the doomed vessel and her hundreds of human souls will probably never be told. Every available boat was sent to the scene of the disaster. Over 200 bodies have been recovered and brought to Juneau and the work of identification started at once by means of letters, registration cards and contents found on bodies.

Many valuables and much money were found on the bodies and it is safe to say few vessels ever carried the same number of passengers with a larger average in money.

As each body was identified, a careful notation was made and the valuables filed away.

The City of Seattle which left Seattle Tuesday afternoon is bringing 200 caskets to Juneau.

Stops Sale of Tickets North

SEATTLE, Oct. 28.—All steamship lines have ceased the sale of tickets to Alaska pending the answer of the Governor to their protests against his influenza regulations.

The above dispatch brings to mind the fact that at the last session of the Territorial Legislature Hon. P. C. McCormack of Wrangell introduced a memorial praying that a suitable quarantine station be established at some convenient place in Alaska.

About a month ago, a man brought a dollar bill to the Sentinel office which he had found near Tom Case's confectionery store. This was duly advertised and no claimant appearing nor the finder returning, the Sentinel turned the money over to Donald Sinclair treasurer of the Red Cross.

MINERS' UNION ENDORSES MR. SULZER

Sulzer, Alaska,
October 14, 1918.

The following resolution was unanimously adopted by the Sulzer Miners' Union No. 152 I. U. of M. M. & S.
